Giesecke+Devrient

Giesecke+Devrient (G+D) has launched a digital corporate publishing platform, G+D Spotlight. Interested parties, customers, and the general public can expect a wide range of professional content related to G+D's key areas of expertise.

G+D Spotlight discusses major present-day security questions, offers expert opinions, and provides an insight into technological innovations. In addition to specialists from G+D and its subsidiaries, external experts from the scientific and business communities as well as wider society will also be able to have their say. The platform covers a vast range of subjects, including cyber security, digital payment methods, eGovernment, the Internet of Things, 5G, artificial intelligence, biometrics, and post-quantum cryptography to name just a few examples.

To access G+D Spotlight, go to: www.gi-de.com/en/spotlight

G+D Spotlight makes full use of the wide range of multimedia formats available to present its varied content in a multitude of different ways. Alongside traditional formats like reports, interviews, and profiles, you'll also find videos and podcasts, as well as easy-to-digest options such as listicles. The platform also offers an extensive selection of features, such as the option to have selected articles read to you out loud. Users who sign up for the newsletter will receive ongoing updates about the latest posts.

There are already many articles to read on G+D Spotlight and G+D will be expanding this platform with new content on a regular basis.
